
Cutting the battery cabinet

He was cutting it very fine. I looked around anxiously, but saw only Mr O'Callaghan running out to the pitch." I looked "cutting it very fine" online, and found this as well: A source ...

I found this sentence in a blog about sailing: "Sailing every other weekend wasn't in my mind, and having only sailed in the Greek Islands and the Caribbean, the Solent wasn't ...

I made up this sentence myself. In a video call with my friend on my laptop, I'm saying to my friend at the other end: "Your sound is cutting." Is it a natural sentence with "is" ...

Hi, I apologize if this sounds too grisely, but I'm writing something that involves a fight between two martial artists, with one of them being decapitated. I need a sound word to ...

Yes, cutting out is a specific type of problem to me, where parts of words are completely dropped. It's not static or echo, for example; it is when only some of the words are ...

It's important to hyphenate if these expressions come before the noun: state-of-the-art technology, cutting-edge technology. If they come after the noun you can decide what is ...

Paper-cutting is an activity: you make one or more things out of paper. It is possible that one of these things could be called a paper-cut, in this context, and I can't think of any ...

Web: <https://stanfashion.pl>

