Is it better to choose 48v for home inverter

Is the first version (I better) grammatically correct? So can we use it instead of I'd better? On the internet people say there is a slight difference between them but I couldn't get if ...

"The better" is a superlative that only applies when comparing two people or things. "The best" is not wrong when comparing just two, but "the better" makes clear that the ...

You will probably find "better than I" recommended by most grammar books, but "better than me" on the lips of most colloquial speakers.

I see "you better do something" as a short spoken form of "you had better do something". "Had" better is an idiom meaning "you should do" and "it would be better if you did".

Whether you use "the less the better," "the fewer the better" or "the smaller the better" depends on what adjective fits for the noun that you are talking about.

You can certainly say that, effect3. "Better" can be used as a verb to replace "improve" with the same meaning. But I don't think you have improved the clarity of the ...
