Would you think "the next 10 days" includes today? If not, would there be a clearer way to put it, to refer to today and the following 9 days?

The form must be filled out within 10 days before the flight. Fill out the Entry Form within 10 days before your flight. What is the meaning of within in these sentences? Is it before 10 days

I would read the first as referring to a deadline, the second referring to a total accumulation of days spent. For example, "This project must be finished within 30 days" is different than "This ...

I often use Google hit counts as a rough measure of how valid an expression is. In the case of "no later than" vs "not later than", Google finds 25 vs 12 million hits, indicating that both forms ...
