
The mall provides uninterrupted power supply

So if I am inside the mall, for example in a store I better say "I am in the shopping mall", right? Both "in" and "at" are correct. Neither one is better than the other. Both are said ...

Web: <https://stanfashion.pl>

